The Covid-19 pandemic has resulted in 2020 being a difficult and disruptive year for companies and countries across Africa and the world. We believe that 2021 will be a more positive year for the region as companies and governments begin dealing with new modalities and opportunities, with first movers benefitting most. Africa House is ending this year with a positive analysis of what 2021 has in store for the continent, focusing on areas of opportunity and growth.

Join us for this virtual event to gain insight into key trends, projects & areas of development in critical sectors, as well as what to expect in 2021 and hotspots to watch.
